Dear [Redacted],

thank you very much for your helpful comments and the NGO handbook, that's a lot to digest. I really like @DPCireland, especially "Dave"!

Best wishes,

Dear [Redacted],

Good to speak with you earlier. Please find attached the NGO Handbook, as discussed. I've attached both the English and German versions and please feel free to distribute the handbook to whomever might find it useful.

A 8000

The handbook covers much of what we talked about - the benefits of using photos and videos, Moments, Twitter ads, our trust and safety policies and enforcement measures, etc. On the latter, please see our Help Center <<https://help.twitter.com/en>> .

For best practice examples, please see the @DPCIreland and @ICONews accounts, representing Ireland and the UK.

Let me know if you've any questions or comments.

Best,

[REDACTED]

Dear [REDACTED],

Thank you for your response.

I'm afraid I'm away from tomorrow until 8th January for Christmas holidays. Would it be possible to schedule a call the week of 8th January perhaps?

Best wishes,

[REDACTED]

Dear [REDACTED],

thank you for your kind email. I would be happy to speak personally to you. Please find my contact details below. If this is not on too short notice, I would be glad if you gave me a call today or tomorrow. If that suits you, we could maybe schedule a meeting for you and [REDACTED] in next year, e.g. in Hamburg or Berlin?

I look forward to hearing from you.

Kind regards,

Dear [REDACTED],

I hope this email finds you well.

By way of introduction, my name is [REDACTED] and I lead Twitter's public Policy activities across Europe, including Germany.

I have reviewed the attached correspondence and would welcome the opportunity to speak to you about this in more detail. As I am based in Dublin I would be happy to set-up a call as a first step if that is convenient for you?

Please also note that I am in the process of hiring a public policy manager for Germany so you will have a German based point of contact in the coming months.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Kind regards,

[REDACTED]
