ANNEX I: Description of the Program

The New Green Savings Programme (“Umbrella Program”) is one of the most effective programmes in the Czech Republic focused on energy savings in family houses and apartment buildings. The overall objective of the Umbrella Program is to improve the state of the environment by reducing the production of pollutant and greenhouse gas emissions (in particular CO₂ emissions). The specific aim of the programme is to achieve energy savings in final consumption and to stimulate the Czech economy with other social benefits, such as improving the quality of housing of citizens, improving the image of towns and villages, starting up long-term progressive trends.

The Umbrella Program contributes to addressing the challenges of reducing energy and water consumption in residential buildings, improving quality of living in these buildings, reducing emissions of greenhouse gases and other pollutants by replacing solid fuel-fired boilers, adapting residential buildings to the effects of climate change, constructing new buildings, increasing the number of recharging points for electric vehicles in residential buildings.

Supported measures (all on family houses and apartment buildings only)

- Thermal Renovation (thermal insulation of facade, roof and ceiling, replacement of windows and doors)
- Construction of family houses and apartment buildings in passive standard (passive houses)
- Solar thermal and photovoltaic systems
- Replacement of inefficient and high-carbon intensive heat sources with heat pumps and modern biomass boilers
- Air ventilation systems with heat recovery
- Other complementary measures (Green roofs, external shading systems, heat recovery from waste water) – only as a part of a complex project

Final beneficiaries

Owners of family houses and apartment buildings in Czech Republic (both individuals and legal entities).

Subsidy levels

The subsidy is paid out ex-post - whole project must be pre-financed by the beneficiary. If beneficiaries receive loans from commercial banks or other financial institutions, those banks and institutions must not claim the emission reduction benefits for compensation or neutralization purposes.

The maximum subsidy intensity is 50 % of eligible costs. The specific subsidy amount is calculated for each project individually, depending on project complexity (beneficiary can mix multiple supported measures in one application).

The Umbrella Program is based on subsidies per unit – e.g., subsidy per sq. meter of insulated wall, subsidy per sq. meter of replaced windows, subsidy for photovoltaic system which meets specific parameters... etc. The Umbrella Program setup is transparent (everyone can calculate the maximum amount of subsidy in advance) and fully avoids spending excessive public money on overpriced projects.

In case of thermal renovations, the subsidy per sq. meter gets higher for more complex projects with higher energy savings. This motivates beneficiaries for project with highest possible energy savings.

The subsidy is granted in full compliance with EU state aid rules (mostly as a de minimis aid or covered by a Block Exemption /GBER/).

Description of the Program

The Program funded from the AEA Proceeds will be implemented within the Umbrella Program. The funding from the AEA Proceeds is fully additional to existing funding levels and sources of the Umbrella Program (the existing funding is generated mainly from RRF (Recovery and Resilience Facility) and auction proceeds from the sale of EUAs (European Union Allowance) and EUAAs (European Union Aviation Allowance) units).

The projects listed in Table 1 are eligible for funding under the Umbrella Program, subject to available funding.

Main measure	Number of projects	Subsidy amount (CZK)	Subsidy amount (EUR)	Annual CO2 reduction (ton/year)	Annual energy savings (MWh/year)
Thermal renovation	3 160	2 209 516 393	88 380 656 €	74 767,21	382 758,50
New passive houses	266	113 432 353	4 537 294 €	627,65	2 974,65
Heat source replacement (heat pumps, biomass)	7 864	714 551 234	28 582 049 €	119 418,06	251 377,66
Solar systems (thermal + PV)	26 601	5 754 755 418	230 190 217 €	174 243,43	517 639,56
Total	37 891	8 792 255 396	351 690 216 €	369 056	1 154 750

Table 1 – Overview of applications which were not financed yet (as of 10th of October 2022). The values express reductions from the entire investment (not solely the subsidy amounts). The annual energy savings and emission reductions are calculated based on energy performance certificates (thermal renovations and new passive houses), simplified methodology provided by Czech technical university in Prague (solar systems) or simplified methodology from the Boiler replacement programme under the Operational programme Environment (approved by EC).

The AEA Proceeds shall be used to finance any of the measures and projects (or parts thereof) included in Table 1, on a ‘first come, first serve’ basis.

Time schedule

The Umbrella Program is open for new applications. Projects from submitted applications will continue to be implemented until 2024.

Main required minimum environmental and energy standards

Thermal Renovation (thermal insulation of facade, roof and ceiling, replacement of windows and doors)

All beneficiaries with this measure have to submit a pair of Energy performance certificates made by state accredited energy specialists. First EPC describes the initial state of the building and the second one the final state of the building after renovation.

Photovoltaic systems

The subsidy can be granted for PV systems 2-10 kWp (system size can be higher, but subsidy is for the first 10 kWp). All supported PV systems must meet the corresponding efficiency criteria of individual system components as photovoltaic panels and inverters.

The supported battery capacity must be in the specified ratio (1.0 – 2.0) to the installed power. No Lead, Mercury or Cadmium batteries allowed.

Replacement of inefficient, carbon-intensive heat sources with heat pumps and modern biomass boilers

All supported heat sources have to meet the corresponding eco-design criteria (as setup in EC regulations). Manually operated biomass boilers have to be installed only with accumulation tank of a minimal specific volume of 55 liters per each kW of capacity.

Air ventilation systems with heat recovery

- Minimal heat recovery efficiency: 75 %
- Minimal energy savings: 20 %
- Air tightness: $n_{50} \leq 2,5$ [1/h] (blower-door test required)

Governance

The Umbrella Program and this Program are run by the Ministry of environment (MoE), which is responsible for the Program design. The administrative part is entrusted to the State Environmental Fund of the Czech Republic (SEF), which is responsible for individual beneficiaries' projects administration. SEF will receive the AEA Proceeds directly from the Buyer.

Steering Committee

The Steering Committee is the highest body of the Umbrella Program and this Program. It is responsible for its progress and implementation in accordance with the set goals. All resolutions and other outputs from the activities of the Steering Committee are the basis for the decision-making activities within the Umbrella Program.

The main tasks of the Steering committee are in particular:

- proposals for adjustments to the allocation of funds for individual areas of Umbrella Program
- support and proposals for their changes according to the development of the Umbrella Program
- proposals for monitoring and financial indicators that are used to evaluate the success of the Umbrella Program and the Program and the achievement of their set goals,
- proposals for adjustments and changes in the Umbrella Program's settings that will enable the achievement of goals or improvement of the Umbrella Program's management,
- proposals for adjustments and changes to the Umbrella Program and the Program, essential for its successful implementation,
- recommendations for setting optimal management methods leading to more efficient implementation of the Umbrella Program and the Program.

The Steering committee has 16 members:

- The Deputy Minister responsible for the Umbrella Program (Chairman of the Steering committee)
- Head of Department responsible for the Umbrella Program (Deputy chairman of the Steering committee)
- 6 representatives of the Ministry of the Environment
- 4 representatives of the State Environmental Fund
- 1 representative of the Ministry of Finance of the Czech Republic
- 1 representative of the Ministry of Industry and Trade of the Czech Republic

- 1 representative of the Office of the Government of the Czech Republic
- 1 representative of the Council of the State Environmental Fund (Chairman of the Council)

Based on the approval of the chairman of the Steering Committee, guests from the ranks of experts may participate in the meeting. Some of the guests have a permanent status and are automatically part of a Steering Committee. Those permanent guests include most important partners, usually sector NGOs.

Meetings of the Steering committee are held regularly at least once a year.

Annual Program Progress Reports

Throughout the whole period of the Umbrella Program's implementation the Ministry of Environment prepares annually monitoring reports.

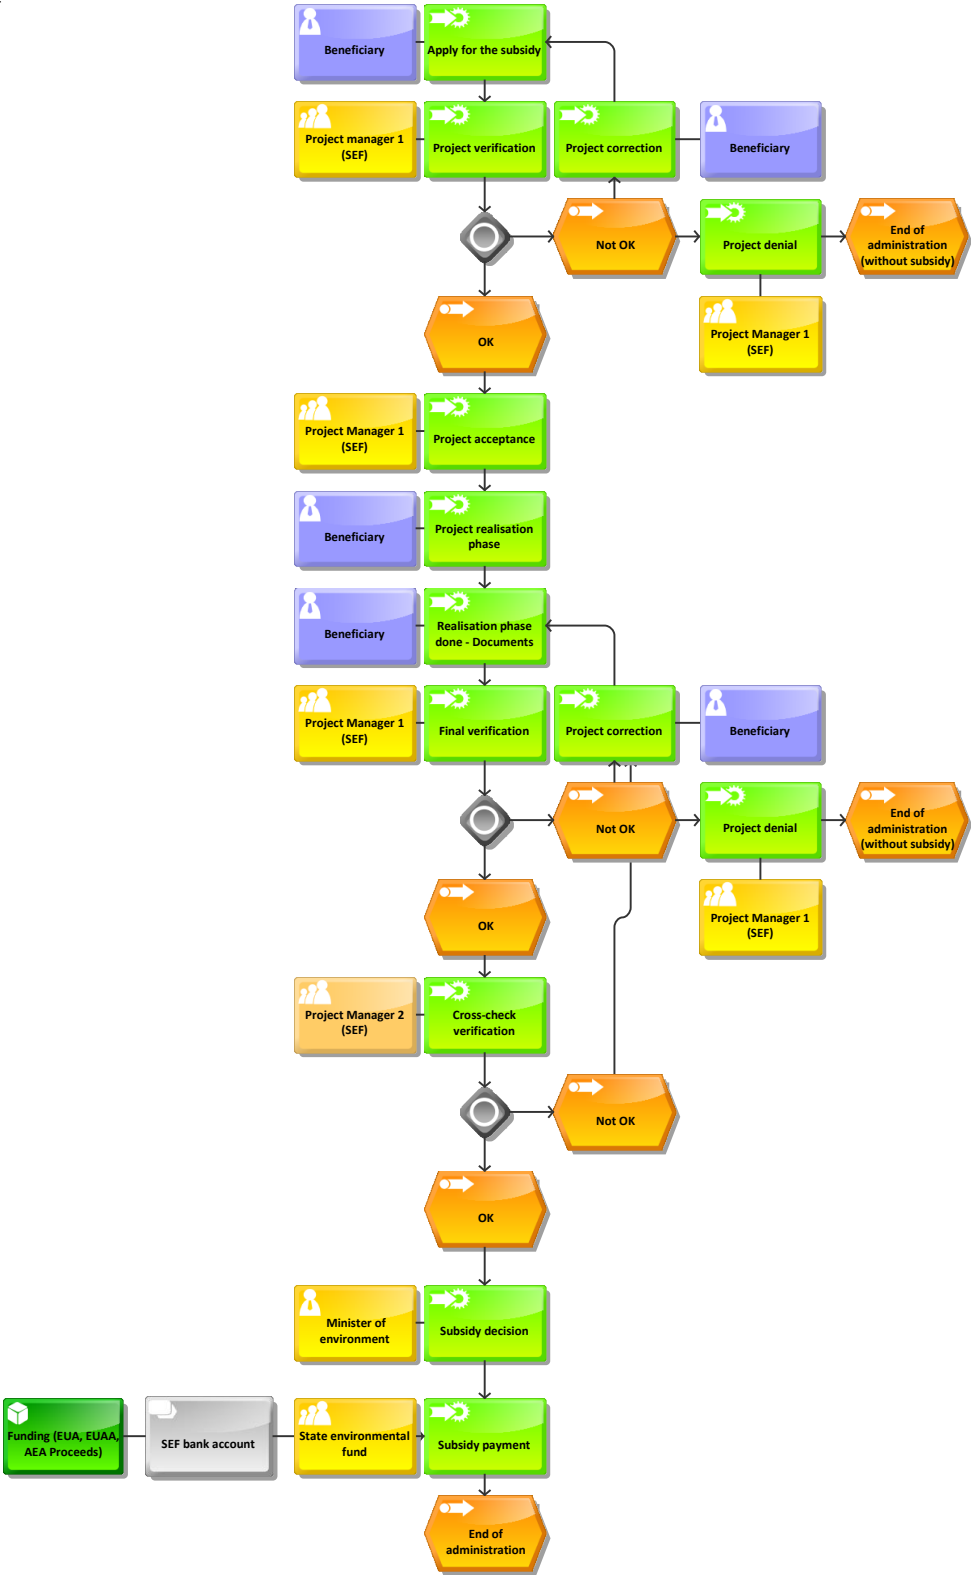

These reports describe the progress in implementation of the Umbrella Program adopted changes and adjustments to the conditions of the Umbrella Program, reports on number of applications and its status and describes possible difficulties and obstructions in implementation.

For the purposes of this contract the templates in Annex II and Annex III will be used for reporting on the progress and use of AEA proceeds.

Day-to-day operations overview

All the beneficiaries' projects are managed primarily by the State Environmental Fund of the Czech Republic, which is responsible for projects verification and monitoring. After the verification process is done and the project is completed, the Minister of Environment issues a subsidy decision to the beneficiary and SEF makes a payment. The collection of specific Program-data, including on GHG reductions achievements, is performed by an independent third party.

The simplified scheme is shown on figure 1 below:

All projects are verified on the documentation level, depending on the specific measures. The verification is led by SEF's project manager. In case of any problems the project is returned to the beneficiary to make a correction. Only projects that meet the terms and conditions of the Umbrella Program are accepted and counted towards the GHG reduction targets.

After a project is verified and accepted the beneficiary starts the realization phase of the project. All possible changes to the project must be verified and accepted by SEF. When the realization phase is done, the beneficiary must submit to SEF all required documents proving that the project was completed according to the verified documents. Those documents include all invoices and payments.

After submitting the documents, project manager of the project makes a final verification. The on-site check is included to the process of final verification on a randomly chosen sample.

Again, in case of any problems, deviations and mismatches a chance to correct the project is given to the beneficiary.

When the final verification is cleared (including on-site check if planned) the cross-verification follows. This must be done by another project manager to keep the process transparent.

If no problem is found within cross-verification process, the information about the project is submitted to the MoE. Based on this information Minister of Environment issues beneficiary a subsidy decision. On behalf a subsidy decision the subsidy is paid out to the beneficiary's bank account by SEF.

External auditing of the AEA Progress Report

At least two independent, external audits shall be performed. As the selected projects can be implemented until 2024, the initial audit may happen after the project selection in 2023 (with expected GHG savings based on approved project designs) and the final audit shall happen in 2025, assuming that by the end of 2024, all subsidies based on the AEA Proceeds have been disbursed, all funded projects have been implemented, and all GHG savings based on realized projects have been verified.

Costs for the AEA Program Management

The costs for standard program management will be fully covered by SEF. According to 5.3 the AEA Proceeds will be used mainly for external reporting, auditing and public-communications. Total costs for programme management will not exceed the limit in 5.3. All the costs and relevant contracts will be fully in line with public procurement regulation.
